Henderson House is designated as a wellness community promoting holistic health and well-being within a traditional residence hall setting. House residents are expected to maintain a substance free (no alcohol, tobacco or other drugs) lifestyle and environment for themselves and guests and agree to the following as a condition of residency:

- Abstain from the use of alcohol, tobacco or drugs as part of a healthy lifestyle and positive living community;
- Participate in health education initiatives provided in Henderson House and elsewhere on campus;
- Assist staff in evaluating the health promotion efforts of the program and to make suggestions to further promote wellness strategies for the campus and Henderson community.

The wellness housing program is student-driven and the house staff will regularly solicit student input regarding programmatic initiatives.

Wellness Housing is a cooperative effort among the residents of Henderson House and staff in Health Services, Student Affairs and Housing and Dining Services.

Having read the above, I hereby agree to abide by the terms of this Wellness Housing agreement. I understand that any violation of this agreement will be handled as a disciplinary matter and may result in reassignment from this area.
